LEAGUE SESSION IS SET FOR MONDAY TO ADOPTNEWMEASURE

By BRYAN MORSE. The new basketball rules make an appearance today and coincident with the changed code comes the announcement that the Interschoastic Basketball League will get going in its first meeting next Monday at the residence of Dr. William B. Hudson for the purpose of electing officers and contemplating extending the schedule.

It is designed to have each of the five teams in the circuit meet the others in three games, two to played in home gyms, and the third to be fought out on neutral territory. Business, Western, Eastrn, Army and Navy Prep, St. Alins are members of the league.

. ustead of the regular ten games on e schedule there will be thirty games, ad it is expected that the last meeting erween the rival teams can be ar-inged for the Y. M. C. A. gyin, as has been the case in the past five years. Basketball has taken a great jump in popularity during the past two years and in the final game between Business and Western last year the largest crowd ever present at a scholastic game looked on at the battle.

This year the game is expected to take on an even more popular aspect from players and spectators. There were more than 200 boys taking part in learne games here last season.

The entrance of Central and Tech into the basketball arena with the teams from Gonzaga, Priends, the George-town Preps, St. John's, and the Army and Navy Academy, is expected to boost the same to even greater heights.

The revised code allows practically the same liberties as enjoyed by playplayed for the past few years, and is He told me not to be a dub, expected to make an even faster propoers in the intercollegiate game as sition out of the contests.

The high school faculty advisers are expecting word from Catholic Univer-sity today as to the possibility of stagg the Business-Central football game t Brookland on Friday. There is ev-inclination to get the battle played as per schedule. Charles Moran, ector of athletics at Catholic Uni-sity, will get in touch with the Cath-University coach and authorities any to determine the possibility of aying the contest.

On yesterday's performance Western must be reckoned with as a contender for the title. The Red and White showed a powerful defense, the tackies, Hume and Grayson, stopping plays refore they had gotten fairly started. The team was down the field on every kick and succeeded in recovering many fumbles.

Penalties inflicted upon Eastern at critical stages made Western's scores possible. Twice with the ball on the le-yard mark after Western had failed to gain, Eastern was penaltzed, and the ball was then shoved over for a touch-down.

McKelway's work at center for East-era stood out conspicuously. His pass-ing was excellent, and he was in every any directed by the Eastern quarter, but kicks he was down the field with the control of the control of the control a dies.
